

May We OBEY Jesus Christ In This

Do you recall the series Decision Magazine offered back in 2022? Andrew Brunson shared huge counsel tied to enduring in walk with Jesus Christ. It was an amazing 7-part series. The following quote is one of those “huge” insights:

Here’s how we can start to prepare to stand under pressure: We need to talk about persecution, be aware of it and plan for it. It needs to be on our radar screen, and I say this especially for pastors, leaders, influencers, parents and grandparents, because you have people under your care. If we don’t talk about it, then when that dark wave hits, it is going to shock many people, and that places them in danger of being knocked out. [Brunson immediately goes on to call for (in his first article titled, “When God’s Grace Isn’t What We Expected”) a necessary action step because most Christians are asleep at the wheel – the “discernment” wheel. Resuming the quote ...] This is especially true because persecution is different from other trials. There are many pressures that we cannot easily escape – an illness, grief from a loss, a broken relationship. But persecution is different because the pressure will usually stop if you just compromise. This is why we must prepare ourselves ahead of time, so that when pressure comes and we are afraid, we do not run but stand firm. [the bold emphasis immediately above is ours]

Did you hear him? Do you connect with what he offers by way of significant – perhaps eternal – counsel? Having a biblical mindset going into the soon-coming period the Word of God calls “the war against the Saints” is essential!

This is one reason why Endurance Ministries became active. God’s Word says some – possibly hundreds of thousands – will depart from the faith in the time of the end. Apostasy is a major reality theme (apostasy is a major part of) the end of days prior to Jesus Christ’s initial appearing. Many have already fallen away. In (future) fact, some will even fall away during the time when the Rev. 8 – 11 Trumpets are sounding.

Back to Brunson’s appeal, only summarized in this way ...

As is the case in many forms of persecution | tribulation from the world, all one has to do (to lessen the persecution) is to recant. A significant example of a voice calling for departure from the faith can be found [here. This example is boldly offered in the film, Silence. (Our article URL being www.TruthFoundations.org/1cid7.pdf)] Often, a degree of inflicted pain subsides when those persecuted give in to their persecutors.

So what do we do? Don't give in. Don't fall away from the faith. Don't compromise with darkness. The consequences of doing so today sometimes even bring eternal effects.

Endurance Ministries warns the Christian community against apostasy due to ill-preparedness. Please ponder our many helpful, Bible-based appeals, only some of which are linked in this article. Other examples include
